Celebrating Our Mentors - Meet Ms. Dara

Ms. Dara is currently studying at Montgomery College, majoring in cybersecurity. However, she has loved reading and (especially) writing since she was young, writing stories in her free time. While English has become her specialty, she was raised in a Spanish-speaking household with Dominican parents and now extends her knowledge of the language to her students. She also enjoys drawing, dancing, and listening to music in her free time.

Ms. Dara believes that everyone can write exceptionally, no matter what story they hold. There is no such thing as a bad writer—just one who needs the support to thrive when creating any piece of work.

As an English and Spanish tutor, she strives to see her students excited about writing efficiently and with ease. Writing is one of the many ways to be expressive and is an essential skill. Ms. Dara is very enthusiastic about becoming a part of Academic Pathways and SpiderSmart and helping students see the joy in language.
